Democrats Rap Some Of President's Proposals

Ike Faces Fight On Part Of Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Democrats made it plain today President Eisenhower will have to fight for parts of his program despite the extent of his re-election victory last fall.

Influential Democrats took quick exception to some of the legislative proposals Eisenhower laid before Congress Thursday in his annual State of the Union message.

Applause interrupted Eisenhower's delivery of the 33-minute message only five times as he made his second personal appearance before Congress in less than a week.

By comparison, in 1953 Eisenhower was applauded 55 times in 57 minutes as he delivered his first State of the Union speech, and in 1955 he was applauded 20 times in 53 minutes.

Despite this obvious coolness, Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California said he is confident a "substantial" portion of Eisenhower's program will be enacted. Chairman Saltonstall (Mass.) of the Conference of All Republican Senators agreed. Republicans generally praised the President's proposals.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson promised the Senate will study the President's abbreviated proposals to be enlarged upon in subsequent messages — "in a cooperative and constructive spirit."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) described the talk as a "message that would be hard to disagree with largely because it was so general."

But it was evident many Democrats were preparing for a battle. As an example of how some of them felt, Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) predicted the Democratic Congress will ignore Eisenhower's suggestion for creation of a commission of private citizens to make a broad survey of the nation's financial system.

Instead, O'Mahoney said he is confident Congress will itself investigate the administration's "tight money" policies against which many Democrats have been complaining.

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.) said it would be "a very proper thing" for the House Banking Committee to go ahead with such an inquiry.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee signaled expected opposition to a resolution supporting the increase issue being fought by a group of rank and file members of his own union, but his remarks were interpreted as an implied call to steelworkers in the area to support a dues hike of $2 a month to a new top of $5 voted by the union's convention last September.

Condemning "right-to-work" laws, Abel said that if enemies of labor can pass such laws in states like Ohio and Michigan, "they will go to work then and destroy the trade union movement."

U. N. Probe Of Hungary OKd

To Debate Explosive Middle East Situation

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A new round of debate on the explosive Middle East brewed today as the General Assembly launched another attempt to inquire into the causes and events of the Hungarian bloodbath.

The Assembly voted 59-8 over bitter Soviet bloc opposition to set up a watchdog committee to seek out the facts on the Hungarian situation. The resolution, sponsored by the United States, was sponsored by 24 nations.

Barred From Hungary

Budapest radio said the committee composed of Australia, Ceylon, Denmark, Tunisia and Uruguay—would be barred from Hungary, just as a previous fact-finding group named by the Assembly was. Instead, the new committee probably will interview refugees and other sources in the United States, Austria, Italy and other European countries on this side of the Iron Curtain.

The Middle East dispute threatened to flare with new bitterness as leaders of the Arab-Asian bloc called a closed door conference to consider demanding immediate withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egypt.

Egypt was reported urging the Arab-Asian group to support a resolution condemning Israel for not pulling her troops out faster and calling on U. N. members to clamp economic and diplomatic restrictions on the Israelis.

The commander of the U. N. Emergency Force, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, said in Tel Aviv after a conference with the Israeli army chief of staff that Israeli forces are not withdrawing from Sharm el Sheikh, the southernmost tip of the Sinai Peninsula, and the Tiran Straits.

Struthers Man Hurt In Road Accident

A Struthers man was injured Thursday in one of two auto mishaps that occurred on district highways yesterday.

The victim, James Blucker, 35, was treated at Youngstown South Side Hospital for a fractured rib, contusions of the head, and lacerations of the lip after his auto veered left of center and struck an approaching car driven by Albert Bodnar, 38, of East Palestine, on Rt. 165, one mile south of New Springfield, at 9:45 p.m.

Patrolmen said Blucker was cited for driving while intoxicated.

Cars driven by Winfield Hanna, 47, of Columbiana, and Fred Posey, 45, of Columbiana were involved in a mishap Thursday at 3:45 p.m. on the lower Elkton Road, four miles east of Lisbon.

Patrolmen said Hanna's car was stopped at an intersection when it was struck in the rear by Posey's vehicle. Posey was arrested for failing to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Butler May Succeed Selwyn Lloyd

Macmillan Ponders Post For His Defeated Rival

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan shaped plans today for a broad reshuffle of the shaken Conservative government he inherited from Sir Anthony Eden.

Near the top of Macmillan's agenda as he settled into his first full day in his new office was the question of a post for Richard A. Butler, his passed-over rival for Britain's highest political post.

Butler, leader of the House of Commons under Eden, was reported to be willing to serve Macmillan in a similar capacity. But Macmillan was said to be toying with the idea that Butler might be more usefully employed to succeed Selwyn Lloyd as foreign secretary.

Lloyd inevitably is associated with the disastrous consequences of the Egyptian military action launched by Eden and French Premier Mollet. It was not certain that Macmillan would decide to drop Lloyd, but his future at least was considered in doubt.

If Butler stays put as government leader in Commons, Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd was tipped as a possible man for the Foreign Office.

Butler told a reporter he "will definitely serve in the new Cabinet, although the office I shall hold has not yet been decided."

Butler's support is of crucial importance to Macmillan and the Conservative party. Generally considered the No. 2 man to Eden throughout the previous government's 21 months in office, he has a strong bloc of supporters in the House of Commons.

In a recorded broadcast to the nation Thursday night, Macmillan said he was forming a government he would present for Queen Elizabeth's approval "in a few days."

He paid tribute to his "old and very dear friend Anthony Eden," and appealed for united support.

There was no indication of Eden's future plans. He and his wife remained in seclusion at Chequers, the official country home of prime ministers. They were preparing to leave the coun-

Eden Resigns From Commons

Ex-Prime Minister Is Offered Earldom

LONDON (AP) — Sir Anthony Eden resigned today from the House of Commons and was offered an earldom, the customary award made by the British sovereign to a retiring prime minister.

Quitting the Commons seat he had held for just over 33 years, Eden again pleaded ill health as he had when he quit the prime ministership two days ago.

But it was presumed he also was removing himself from active participation in front-line politics to prevent any embarrassment to his successor, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

As an earl, Eden will set in the House of Lords and no longer can be a candidate to head the government.

Extra Police Watch For New Racial Violence In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Extra police were on duty today to guard against new outbreaks of violence that has shaken the city 12 times in the past 15 days.

Other officers sifted scarce evidence from bombings and shootings at city buses that left Montgomery without bus service. The Montgomery Advertiser said buses should run with "whatever it takes in special police" to protect them.

Auxiliary Police Called

Police Chief G. J. Ruppenthal declared he had enough men to maintain order, including auxiliary police called to emergency duty Thursday night. Mayor W. A. Gayle said there was no need to accept Gov. James E. Folsom's offer of state patrolmen or National Guardsmen.

"The issue now is no longer segregation on city buses," the Advertiser said in an editorial. "The issue now is whether it is safe to live in Montgomery, Ala."

The City Commission urged parents to put a midnight curfew on teen-age children after it ordered bus service halted indefinitely.

May Send In FBI

In Washington the Justice Department was studying the violence to determine whether to order the FBI into action.

And in Mobile, Police Chief Dudley McFadyen ordered a 24-hour patrol of areas where one bomb went off, two unexploded bombs were found and three crosses were burned about the same time bombs were exploding in Montgomery.

Four Montgomery Negro churches and the residences of two ministers who have led the Negro movement for racial integration were bombed before dawn Thursday. The night before, the sixth bus shooting occurred shortly after buses had resumed night operations following an 11-day dan because of attacks.

Grand Jury Probing Area Traffic Deaths

LISBON—The Columbiana County January term of grand jury continued its investigation of criminal matters today. Some of the 15 witnesses called for Thursday returned to the stand this morning as the grand jury got behind schedule. Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw said today.

Brokaw said he expects the grand jury to report late this afternoon. However, due to unforeseen circumstances Thursday, the jury may not report until Monday, he said.

Five witnesses were scheduled to give testimony today regarding the traffic accident in Washingtonville Dec. 22 when Mrs. Maude Smith and her granddaughter, Patricia Ann Selway, both of Washingtonville, were killed by a runaway car operated by James Chiera, 45, of Leetonia.

Hall Quits As GOP Chairman

Expected To Get High Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leonard W. Hall announced today he is resigning as chairman of the Republican National Committee effective Feb. 1 and the White House indicated broadly that he will be given a high position in the federal government.

Hall issued his expected announcement after visiting President Eisenhower at the White House.

The President followed through with a statement of his own saying that after Hall takes a vacation "I sincerely hope that his wisdom and his long years of experience as a legislator, judge and chairman, will continue to be available not only to the party but to the nation in the years ahead."

Going To Florida

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Hall is going to Florida and: "I would think Mr. Hall's great talents would find suitable use after Mr. Hall has completed his vacation."

On the basis of past performance, the Eisenhower and Hagerty statements clearly could be taken as pointing to a federal job for the resigning head of the Republican committee.

Just what position the administration has in mind for Hall was uncertain.

Didn't Mention New York

A reporter noted that Eisenhower's statement referred to Hall's being available in the future to the party and the nation but said nothing about New York state. Hagerty merely laughed at that. Hall is a resident of Oyster Bay, N. Y. and there has been widespread speculation that he may try for the governorship next year.

Eisenhower had praise for Hall's service as chairman and an expression of regret that he is leaving.

Among those mentioned as possible successors are: Bliss May Succeed

Ray C. Bliss, Ohio state chairman and chairman of the 21-state Midwest and Rocky Mountain State Chairmen's Conference. L. Judson Morhouse, 42-year-old New York state chairman from Ticonderoga.

Fred C. Scribner Jr. of Portland, Maine, general counsel of the Treasury Department and former general counsel of the GOP National Committee.

H. Meade Alcorn Jr., national committeeman for Connecticut and vice chairman of the party's 1956 national convention arrangements committee.

Howard Pyle, former governor of Arizona and now deputy assistant to President Eisenhower for intergovernmental relations.

Hall has been chairman since April 10, 1953.

B52 Explodes In Flight; Pilot's Vision Blocked

B29 Crashes While Landing In Texas, Killing 6 Crewmen

ANDOVER, N. B. (AP)—A giant B52 Air Force jet bomber exploded in flight Thursday with a known loss of seven lives.

The bodies of six Air Force men were found immediately after the crash. The seventh body was found by searchers early today deep in the plane's wreckage.

One man is missing and the ninth man aboard the plane parachuted to safety and is reported in good condition at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Maine, the plane's home base.

Air Force officials said the bomber blew up while the pilot's vision was partially obstructed on purpose as part of a training test. Hundreds Hunt Crewman

Hundreds of heavily garbed men, including Air Force men, Royal Canadian Mounted Police and French-Canadian trappers and guides waded through snow-choked woods in bitter cold in search of the missing crewman.

Several hours after the crash of the B52 jet bomber, an Air Force B29 crashed on landing at Bergstrom Air Force Base, near Austin, Tex., killing six crewmen and injuring three others.

The public information office at Loring identified six of the victims of the Andover crash as:

1st Lt. Charles Cole, 27, of Basin, Wyo.

Capt. Richard A. Jenkins, the aircraft commander, Huron, Ohio.

Capt. William C. Davidson, Stockton, Calif.

Capt. John E. McCune, Hayward, Calif.

Capt. Marquid H. D. Myers, Tracy, Calif.

T. Sgt. Ray A. Miller, Racine, Wis.

All Were Married

All were married and all but Davidson had children.

The only known survivor was 1st Lt. Joe L. Church, Charlotte, N. C.

A spokesman at Loring said a team of Air Force flight safety experts from Norton AFB near San Bernardino, Calif., and officials of the Boeing Airplane Co. would take part in an investigation of the crash. Boeing builds the eight-million-dollar, swept-wing B52s.

Brig. Gen. William K. Martin, Loring commander, said in a statement "an unusual maneuver may have resulted in exceeding the flight limitation of the aircraft."

In Washington, the Air Force said the pilot was undergoing a reflex test wherein the flyer's eyes are partly shielded and the plane put into an "unusual" position.

70 Protest School Board Discipline

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seventy angry adults showed up at a meeting of the Rocky River school board Thursday night and protested the board's disciplinary measures in a window-breaking incident.

Nine boys, all about 15, had been accused of breaking 48 windows in school buildings last November. Three were found guilty of the actual deed and were ordered in juvenile court to pay $450 for replacing the windows.

But the board also sent a letter to parents of all nine boys outlining this punishment:

The boys were not to participate in any school activities held outside school hours. They were restricted to the school during lunch hours. They were not to associate with each other for the rest of the year.

Parents of the boys and friends who attended the meeting Thursday night declared the board had no right to attempt to impose punishment effective away from school.

The board indicated it would reconsider the punishment at a future meeting.

Lausche Sees New Spending Activities In The Making

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) said today he sees "in the making" federal spending on projects that should be handled by state and local authorities.

The new Ohio senator made the statement in commenting on President Eisenhower's "State of the Union" message.

Lausche said he found the "general principles" set forth in that message "sound" but added he is concerned with the action that will follow both in the administration and Congress.

"Regrettably," said Lausche, "I see in the making additional (spending) activities . . . that logically and traditionally ought to be carried by local and state governments."

Specifically, he said, he means federal subsidies and federal building programs that will increase the national debt.

Ohio's senior senator, Republican John W. Bricker, called the message "very good" and said he thought the economic section dealing with the dangers of inflation "excellent."

Bricker noted one passage in the President's address which he thought had a direct relationship to the amendment he has long sought to revise treaty procedures with other nations.

That passage read in part: "When our forefathers prepared the immortal document that proclaimed our independence, they asserted that every individual is endowed by his Creator with certain inalienable rights."

Bricker, who is still awaiting White House reaction to a new version of his proposed amendment, commented:

"I cannot see how the President can so sincerely believe in the things he stated without being just as earnestly for the amendment."

The senator said his proposal is "really a Bill of Rights" to prevent anyone from taking away rights by treaty or executive agreement.

Grand Jury Rips Trumbull Jail

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—The Trumbull County jail has been compared to the "Black Hole of Calcutta" by the grand jury, which suggested that citizens "find out for themselves what sort of place it is where we keep our prisoners."

In their reports Thursday, jurors did not make a specific recommendation for a new jail as other grand juries have done for the last 20 years. Voters of the county have turned down several bond issues for a new jail.

"Black Hole of Calcutta" was the name given the guardroom of Fort Williams in Calcutta, India. One hundred and forty-six European prisoners were thrown into the 18-by-14-foot room which had only two windows.

Girl Fined for Annoying John Jacob Astor III

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A city judge fined Lucille Ann Stiglich $400 Thursday and suspended a 30-day jail sentence on condition she stay away from the mansion of John Jacob Astor III, whom she was found guilty of annoying.

Miss Stiglich, 25, was convicted of disorderly conduct and breach of the peace after being arrested outside Astor's home. She said she wanted to retrieve clothing left there during a visit.

PART OF FAMILY WASH—Judy Vanderhoff, five, ruefully regards the automatic washer that broke her leg in her Wenatchee, Wash., home. When her mother left the room for a moment last week, Judy climbed into the machine which was operating. Result: a broken leg.

Keep 'Em Busy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Amid all the suggestions on how to cure the nation's growing problem of juvenile delinquency, Dr. Laurence C. Jones offers a simple, old-fashioned prescription:

"The only solution is to keep the young people busy. Give them something worthwhile to do. Then they'll stay out of trouble."

Does this remedy sound too easy? Dr. Jones says it has worked unfailingly with 6,000 boys and girls he had educated since 1909.

In that year Dr. Jones, a northern Negro with a college degree, $1.65 in cash, a few clean shirts—and a lot of faith—started the Piney Woods Country Life School. The site was a clearing in the woods 22 miles southeast of Jackson, Miss. His first class consisted of three boys who could neither read nor write. The ceiling of his open-air classroom was a cedar tree.

Today, Dr. Jones, known as "the little professor of Piney Woods," and his "work-as-you-go" school are nationally famous. Other educators listen with respect when he says:

"The boy gangs we have now are just a result of not giving our young people enough to do."

"They have energy and have to do something—good or bad. In the old days they had chores. They don't have enough chores at home anymore to keep them occupied."

"You have to keep them busy. You can't build enough boys' clubhouses to give them all the recreation they need. It would cost too much. But there are plenty of public schools already built that stand empty at night."

"Why not keep them open in the evening and provide them with programs to keep the young people busy? It would be a big help."

At 72 Dr. Jones, his brown face a lamp of kindness, is anxious to see more common-sense understanding applied to the problem of curbing juvenile delinquency.

In nearly a half century, helped by more than 50,000 individual contributors (both white and Negro), he has built up a million-dollar endowment for his own school, which now has 500 students, a faculty of 46, and a $250,000 plant consisting of eight buildings on 1,700 acres of farm and woodland.

For his efforts Gov. Hugh White at a testimonial meeting in 1955 acclaimed him "Mississippi's first citizen."

To raise his annual budget of $80,000 Dr. Jones now travels some 50,000 miles across the country, makes as many as 12 speeches a week to churches, civic clubs, educational groups. Somehow—he himself puts his faith in prayer—he always manages to raise the money he needs, and without any foundation grants.

"If you work as if everything depended on you," he said, "and pray as if everything depended on God—well, it's a hard combination to beat."

"All our students—they now come from 12 states—could be called underprivileged. If they have enough money to pay tuition, we send them home."

"About half are from broken homes, and a fourth are orphans."

"They work 3½ hours a day, and spend five hours a day studying. We teach classes from the seventh grade through junior college."

"Each student is taught not one trade but at least two—and sometimes three—so that if he can't find work at one trade he has another to fall back on."

"We've had a lot of what are called 'bad boys.' But they all fall in line. It's the spirit of the place. Once they are given something worthwhile to do, we have no trouble with them."

Guards Penalized For Attempted Jail Break

CINCINNATI (AP)—Five guards at the Hamilton County jail will have to give up 10 days of leave each as a result of an attempted jail break Monday. Sheriff Dan Tehan said the guards were guilty of actions that "tended to lessen security" at the jail.

Because of a shortage of manpower he did not suspend the guards but ordered that each must work 10 days when he ordinarily would be off duty.

Shooting Victim Again In Serious Condition

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Helen Aue, 50, was reported Thursday to be in serious condition again from a Dec. 21 shooting in which her husband, Lester, 54, and their daughter, Susan, 17, were killed.

The shooting occurred in the Aue's fashionable home here and police have said Gordon Pape, 19, shot the Aues and then killed himself. A note found in his car and information obtained from friends indicated Pape was angered because Susan would not continue to "go steady" with him, police have said.

Mrs. Aue, who had been reported in good condition earlier this week, has talked with investigators once and said she remembered nothing of the shooting.

She was removed Thursday from General Hospital to Christ Hospital.

Columbiana Banks Report Prosperous Year During 1956

Historical Society to Have Sesqui Participants Reunion

COLUMBIANA — Officers of Columbiana banks reported a prosperous 1956 at the annual meeting of stockholders Wednesday evening.

The Citizens Savings Bank has underway a remodeling and modernization program that is considered the most important building project in the business district in several years.

The Union Bank is paying a stock dividend, officials say. Officers of the Citizens Savings Bank reported although the rate what slow, there was an increase, in the rise of deposits was some principally in time deposits.

The extensive remodeling underway was reported nearly completed, a costly undertaking, but in the light of the fact that the Columbiana building was purchased about 34 years ago and had almost completely depreciated, and that the surplus of the bank is substantial, the rapidly expanding economic condition of the community and surrounding area fully justified the expenditure, officers said.

A goodly portion of the 1956 earnings are being devoted to part of this cost. The bank paid its usual dividends during the year amounting to $5 a share. Directors were reelected and reorganized after the stockholders meeting by electing Elmer T. Coyle president; Willis R. Rupert, R. C. Diefenbacher and E. B. Dillon vice presidents; Paul E. Reeves cashier and secretary; Dillon, Hazel F. Rearick and William H. Yoder, assistant cashiers. Fifteen are employed in the Citizens' Columbiana and Leetonia banks.

TOTAL RESOURCES of the Union Bank increased more than $400,000 during the year, officers reported, bringing its resources to $7,490,727.08 at the end of the year. Capital accounts are now in excess of $500,000 and values of both deposits and checks paid were up during the year.

In the processing of these transactions, the bank handled more than a half million checks. Bank clearings, corresponding bank deposits and bank remittances were at an all-time high, more than $95,000,000.

Growth during the year has been noted in the savings department, and popularity of the drive-in banking continues with more than 12,500 cars having used this facility.

To serve better the financial needs of the community, the bank is increasing its capital stock by reducing the par value of shares and issuing a stock dividend. The bank has increased to 17 the number of its employees. All the officials were re-elected at the stockholder's meeting Wednesday evening.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY of Columbiana and Fairfield Township will give recognition at its quarterly meeting in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 8:15 p.m. Monday to the 10th anniversary of the founding of the township.

Cable Slashings Cut Off Phones

PORTSMOUTH NEARLY WITHOUT SERVICE

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Cable slashings are threatening to black out telephone service in the Portsmouth area, officials of Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. told Portsmouth police Thursday.

A strike involving the company and the Communications Workers of America (CWA) is now in its 182nd day.

Another nine cable-slashing incidents here Thursday left fewer than 3,500 of the city's 17,000 telephones operating, the company said.

Similar incidents have cut off more than 2,000 of the 2,100 telephones in Sciotoville and have left New Boston without any phone service at all, the company told police.

The CWA has consistently denied being responsible for the reported acts of vandalism.

In another strike development, Robert Johnson, 21, Norman Bush, 23, and Harry J. Ervin, 26, all charged with violating a court injunction, were released on $50 bail. Police said the three were arrested earlier for violating a restraining order issued last August by common pleas judge James W. Lang Jr. limiting to three the number of persons in a picket line at each company property.

Johnson, Bush and Ervin, all members of the striking CWA, were picketing with three women strikers at a downtown location where company supervisors were repairing cut cables, police said.

In Greenfield, meanwhile, the state Public Utilities Commission concluded two-day hearings on complaints that phone service in the Greenfield-Leesburg exchange area is inadequate.

Company officials testified that the CWA strike has left Ohio Consolidated with inexperienced personnel and a shortage of maintenance and repair crews.

Walter Shaeffer, attorney-examiner for the commission, said he would submit his findings and recommendations to the commission in about a month.

Cities Of Tomorrow

The most visible internal problem in the United States is typified by a real estate development mushrooming in a pasture field.

It is the problem of how to coordinate the component parts of the metropolitan areas that have grown up around the cities. These are, in fact, the cities of tomorrow, even though they lie outside the cities of today.

The new Ohio Assembly will be urged to learn about their problems, with a view to opening the way to future answers. The Eisenhower administration will urge Congress to learn about their problems. Government has the best of all possible reasons to nurture cities. They are the prime source of public wealth and government income.

This nation, once predominantly agricultural, now is a complex of city-states. Except in the most sparsely settled areas, these sprawling population centers set the pace for activities within a radius of more than 50 miles from themselves.

The real estate development mushrooming in a pasture field is typical not only of an American problem but of America. Yet, until recently, politicians have not been aware of it—not even as a factor in voting before last Nov. 6.

The only important political effort to fit the metropolitan area into government is being made in Toronto, where the Ontario legislature has opened the way to a new form of government. The "Toronto plan" is being studied for possible adaptation to the needs of U.S. cities, with the doubt expressed that legislatures south of the border will be willing to do the same things for their cities; that counties and townships will be willing to subordinate themselves to new patterns; that Congress will be willing to cope with the complications of overlapping sovereignties.

To such doubts there can be but one answer. Government in the United States belongs to the people, not to the state. Sovereignty rests with the citizens, who can have any kind of government they want.

Trespassers Stay Out!

The Democrats who are stalling a stay-out warning to Communist trespassers in the Middle East for the sake of hearing themselves talk are too fuzzy-minded in their opposition to hold an audience.

But if what they are trying to say is that the warning must be worded one way or some other way to put punch into it, and they know which way would be best, they are begging the question.

The most important stay-out warning ever issued by the United States was the Monroe Doctrine, which pulled the rug from under the conspiracy known as the Holy Alliance. One of the conspiracy's purposes was to knock over fledgling republics in the New World and make things safe for Spain.

President James Monroe disposed of this nonsense in 1823 by letting it be known through diplomatic channels that the United States would take a dim view of any European power which foisted around with politics on this side of the North and South Atlantic. Then to make sure the conspirators would not miss the point, he merely said the United States would consider it an "unfriendly act."

The Monroe Doctrine was far from precise, but the political meddlers of the Old World had no trouble understanding what it meant. The Kremlin will get the idea that the Middle East has been closed to conquest without spelling it out to suit every Democratic congressman.

State Of The President

The annual message on the state of the union has changed into a series of reports on the state of the president.

Instead of putting together a stack of statistics and general information, the chief executive now gives Congress an outline of his point of view on the presidency. Mr. Eisenhower's outline for his second term began to emerge in his 1957 message on the state of the union.

It will be defined in detail later. But essentially it will continue to be what the President, himself, calls "dynamic conservatism"—what others have called the "new Republicanism."

The domestic philosophy of the Eisenhower administration may seem to be overshadowed by its preoccupation with foreign policy, but the fact remains that foreign policy is bipartisan.

Domestic policy is partisan. President Eisenhower is the spokesman for one party. His position — the state of his mind — is the essence of the two-party system. He wanted a second term in the White House to give him time to change the nature of the Republican party. During the next four years he will try to broaden its appeal so it can stand without his personal popularity. The test of his success will be the congressional election in 1958. If Republican winners by that time still are a minority, as they were in 1954 and 1956, the President will have failed.

The record of his efforts to avert failure will be the messages he will send to Congress, starting with the generalized statement made Thursday.

Friends In Name Only

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Clamor About Small Business Called Insincere

David Lawrence "is a small business," as it should be defined, has more enemies than friends in Congress and the trend is toward more strangulation of such businesses in America through the power of monopoly.

The monopoly in question is not "big business" but "big unionism." There is lots of talk now about giving some tax relief to "small business" so that those firms earning around $25,000 to $50,000 a year may get a slightly lower tax rate. But that's no real relief.

It is infinitesimal and does not relieve the main burden — the necessity of paying national scales of union wages irrespective of lower costs of living in small towns and rural sections where many small plants are located.

Today labor unions fix the costs for the small business man. Whether or not he has up-to-date machinery, he has to pay the same national wage rates that the large business pays.

Indeed, the prevailing wage rates are fixed in negotiation with the big businesses and then the smaller one have to pay the scale or close to it, just the same.

NOBODY IN CONGRESS has had the temerity to propose that there be substantial differentials in wage scales so as to benefit the smaller businesses. Nor is anybody introducing bills to prohibit labor unions from applying wage rates on a national basis. No committee of Congress under the Democrats ever would venture to investigate this subject, yet it's at the heart of present-day difficulties for small business.

Labor unions are exempt today from the jurisdiction of the anti-monopoly and anti-trust laws and they can do as they please in fixing, by concerted action throughout the country, the labor costs that small as well as large business must pay.

In fact, all businesses face not only this monopoly but in many instances a monopoly on labor membership through the imposition of restrictions on how many apprentices may be accepted each year. If a small plant tries to hire non-union labor, it runs into boycott troubles.

This tight hold on the labor supply and national wage scales gives "big unionism" tremendous power in the economic system of today and yet the Democrats — who claim to be "the party of the people" — do nothing for the vast number of workers whose jobs are being jeopardized now by rising costs.

THE MAIN REASON for this indifference of the Democrats is that they get the bulk of their campaign contributions from "big unionism."

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

The most dismal day of the year must be Jan. 2, when kids return to school, having forgotten everything they had learned up to the beginning of the holidays and with no energy left to start over again.

The longest sleeping bout of the year must be New Year's night, when everybody turns in early to get rested up for the gray days that lie ahead.

The happiest Sunday of the year must be the one after Christmas when everybody examines the presents put aside on Christmas morning, separating the sheep from the goats and experimenting with new tools and gadgets.

The most tap water of any morning in the year must be drunk on the morning after New Year's eve, when everybody who became dehydrated while watching the end of the old year tries to restore a water balance in 15 minutes after waking.

The saddest sight of the year must be a pile of unwanted Christmas trees being burned. The next saddest sight must be a Christmas tree that was wanted and was cast out afterward, to end its days on a trash heap.

The heaviest use of household electricity must be during the week after Christmas when recipients of electrical appliances have had time to get the appliances hooked up and running.

The greatest feeling of relief during the year must be the one that comes when the last commitments and chores of the holidays have been performed, and nothing looms ahead but a ho-hum observance of Groundhog Day.

The most fragrant month of the year must be January, when everybody who has received perfumes and scented lotions tries them on for smell.

The supreme triumph of the year must be the one scored by postoffice staffs in good-sized towns when the last Christmas card has been found under the

That's why the Democratic party in Congress refuses to tackle the problem of the labor monopoly.

The plight of small business in America is indeed serious. The definition by members of Congress of what is "small business" is inadequate. It usually applies to the businesses which employ less than 20 persons.

According to the latest available figures, there are, for instance, only 8,887,000 persons employed in the 3,865,000 establishments that have 20 or less employees.

The figures show also there are 21,523,000 persons employed in the 4,060,740 business establishments that employ less than 500 persons. This compares with 16,867,000 employees in the 6,560 business establishments that employ 500 or more persons.

As for the various tax bills now being proposed for "small business" relief, they would mean a saving of $2,000 in taxes to each firm earning $25,000 a year and about $1,700 to each company earning around $50,000 a year. But the companies above those brackets would be soaked to make up the difference in income to the treasury.

Instead of reducing the corporate tax from its present rate of 52 per cent, the plans of those who claim to be concerned with "small business" would indeed penalize many hundreds of thousands of such firms with a tax rate of 54 per cent.

IT IS EVIDENT already that the present high taxes are damaging many small businesses. For a company that is making $500,000 a year in an industry where the big fellows are making 10 million dollars or more a year is really a "small business" and needs to be permitted to put aside more and more surplus each year in order to buy up-to-date equipment and stay in the competitive race.

Today liquid assets in American companies have been drawn down to the lowest point reached since the war years. That's because taxes are so high that the amounts set aside each year for surplus are not enough to furnish the funds needed for expansion without drawing on working capital.

Already many businesses have for this reason curtailed or abandoned expansion plans. This, of course, gives the big companies their chance to go ahead with new plant and equipment which, in turn, reduces their costs.

SOME DAY CONGRESS will wake up and find out what is happening to "small business" in America and will be compelled by events to cut all corporate taxes.

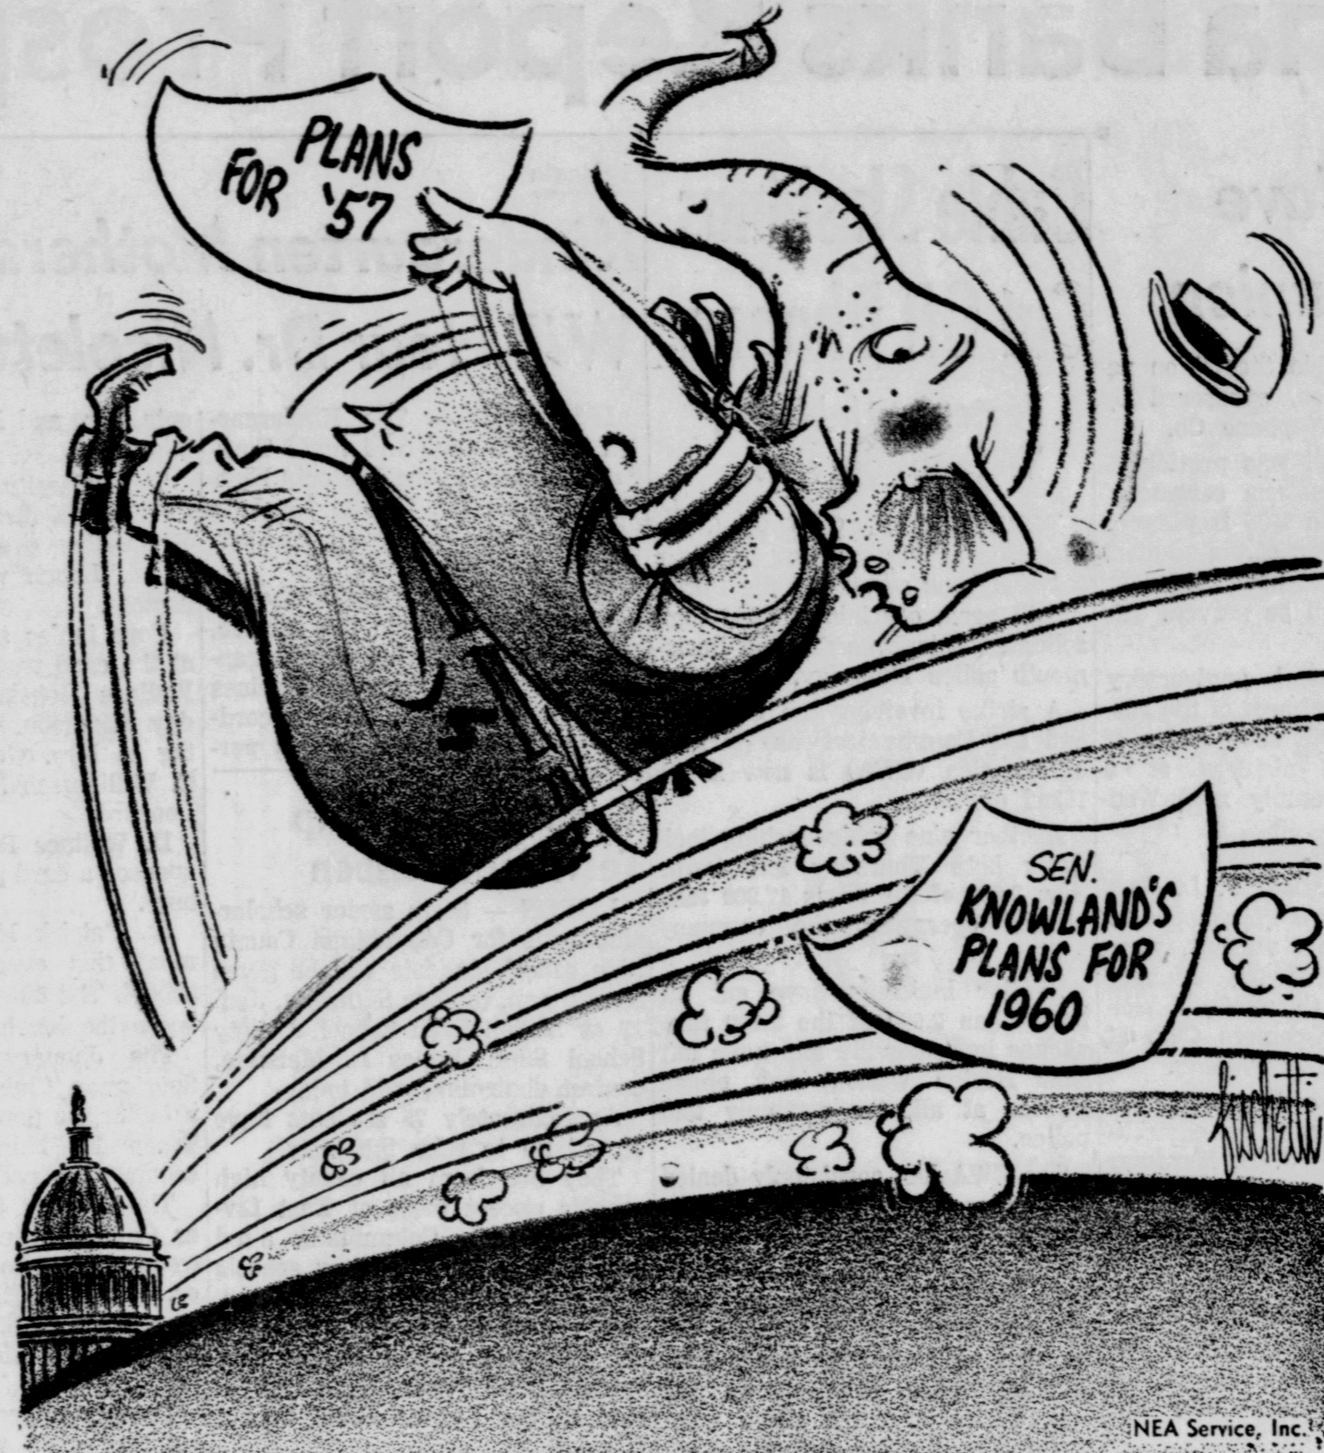

If the rate could come down again to 25 per cent, it would help all small businesses and would mean the biggest stimulus to employment America has ever experienced.

It would permit the highest wage levels ever attained. For a tax cut across the board would benefit all the small businesses and at the same time would have a favorable effect on the economic status of almost everybody employed.

It would bring in the highest record of tax receipts ever collected from business since the income tax was enacted.

World Still Seeks Peace

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Since 1912, the world has been disturbed by threats of war, wars, revolutions, counter-revolutions and the social and economic commitments of such upheavals.

The present course of events started with the emergence of Germany as an imperial and commercial power of prime magnitude, reducing the position of France after the Franco-Prussian War in 1870 and challenging the naval power of Great Britain at the turn of the century.

Bismarck, who had created modern Germany, had opposed colonialism for Germany, recognizing in Germany's neighbors, Poland, Russia, the Austro-Hungarian Empire and the Balkans ample opportunities for markets for the products of the developing German industries.

ON THE OTHER HAND, as Kaiser Wilhelm came to power, he sought to turn Germany into a great naval power and into the dominant commercial power of the world.

Having defeated France by military power, Germany now sought to replace Great Britain on the seas and in the commercial ports of the world.

Eventually this policy produced World War I which is really not yet over. In fact, in one form or another, the world has been at some kind of war for more than 40 years.

Throughout this long period efforts have been made to find a way to peace, for the settlement of international disputes without recourse to war.

The three most significant efforts in this direction were the League of Nations, the Kellogg-Briand Pact and the United Nations.

None of these methods or organs has produced peace, impeding the preparation for war or lessened the force of imperialism.

ALTHOUGH Germany was defeated, Soviet Russia succeeded in establishing a new and larger and more significant empire than the Kaiser had conceived or Hitler had achieved.

One of the major problems of the later decades of the 19th century was the intensification of nationalism, particularly following the revolutions of 1848.

One result of this was the weakening of the Austro-Hungarian and the Turkish Empires, producing a larger number of new nations in the Balkans and in the Middle East.

Students of politics often feared the consequences of this trend as increasing the number of nations, increasing trade barriers and accentuating dislikes and prejudices among peoples.

The Bolsheviks who, as Marxists, despised nationalism and patriotism, have become intensely nationalistic, not only in Soviet Russia but in each of the satellite countries.

And within Soviet Russia, the government and party have tried to extirpate all evidences of minority differences even as Czarist Russia tried to extirpate all evidences of minority differences even as Czarist Russia tried to do in the same areas and to the same peoples.

TODAY, ARAB nationalism is asserting itself more effectively than it ever has in Islam's history and it has, during the past year, given evidence of greater potency than ever before but it is not realistic because just as Pan-Slavism could never bind all the Slavic peoples into a unit, so there is no evidence that Pan-Arabism or Pan-Islam can bind Iraq (Babylonia) to Egypt or Saudi Arabia to Lebanon.

There is plenty of history behind these differences.

Realistically it needs to be faced that no method has yet been discovered by the human mind to overcome the tendency of nations to use war as an extension of diplomacy, to pit strength against intelligence and killing against morality. That is where we stand in 1957.

Ike Doctrine Alternatives

By RAYMOND MOLEY

It is quite clear that conscientious members of Congress are urgently seeking a formula by which the traditional control of the legislative branch of government may be protected against executive power and at the same time to avoid any suggestion that the United States is not ready to resist further aggression by the Soviet or any nation controlled by the Soviet.

It is clear also that such members of Congress as well as the administration are determined at all costs to avoid weakening the United Nations.

At the moment, however, no way appears to solve these difficulties.

THE LANGUAGE of the resolution before Congress is not at all clear on either of these points.

Nor was Secretary Dulles able in his statement to the House Foreign Affairs Committee to clarify the foggy language of the proposed resolution.

The resolution says that any employment of armed force to secure and protect the territorial integrity and political independence of any such nation or group of nations requesting such aid "shall be consonant with the treaty obligations of the United States and with the Charter of the United Nations and actions and recommendations of the United Nations."

In his statement Secretary Dulles underscored these words by saying:

"Coordination with the United Nations would be further assured by a provision that any United States use of force shall be consonant with the actions and recommendations of the United Nations."

Secretary Dulles is a lawyer — an eminent lawyer — who has been employed for many years in a worldwide practice. But he fails to make it clear whether by this limitation he and the President are asking anything more in the nature of authority than what they already have.

DOES THIS MEAN that the President will not act unless the United Nations has authorized action? If so, what division of the United Nations is referred to here? If it means that the Assembly (for it is certain that the Security Council in such a situation would be rendered powerless by a Russian veto) must authorize action, the handicap thus imposed on any prompt military action is almost insuperable.

The Assembly is not always in session and to get it together for such a purpose would take a considerable time.

Indeed, to impose this restriction would be more serious than a promise to get authority from Congress before acting. For these are not horse-and-buggy days.

Congress is in session generally from January to August. When it is not in session it can be called together in a matter of a few days. And it can be taken for granted that it would agree to any request made by the President with little or no debate.

The problem so far as Congress is concerned might well be resolved by a resolution specifically referring to the problem posed by the President and making it a matter of national policy that the United States would regard such aggression in a specified area as inimical to our national interests.

THIS WOULD leave it to the President to call such a threat to the attention of Congress and secure authority in a specific case.

In any event, this would preserve the principle that Congress still retains its constitutional right to authorize the use of force — which, of course, in practice means war.

Wanted: Courteous Drivers

To The News: Why can't motorists be more courteous to pedestrians in the winter time? Some of us who don't or can't drive must use the sidewalks and we are continually being splashed by automobiles which speed close by on slushy, wet streets.

Please be careful on wet days and give us a break. All that a courteous driver has to do is slow down when he sees someone standing or walking. We don't like being showered with wet, dirty slush any more than you would.

And, it costs money to have our clothes dry cleaned continually. How about it, Mr. Motorist?

'No Gambling,' O'Neill Warns

Won't Allow Casinos
To Reopen In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill issued a warning Thursday that his administration will tolerate no gambling casinos in the state.

"Opening day will be closing day" for gambling houses, O'Neill said. "If they make any attempt to reopen, they will be padlocked immediately."

The incoming governor said he has heard reports that a number of casinos in northwest Ohio were planning to reopen.

They were closed during the administration of Gov. Frank J. Lausche who, in the absence of adequate laws, enlisted the help of the state fire marshal, liquor agents, building code officials and other state authorities.

O'Neill said he is better equipped to fight the casinos.

"Now we have the tools with which to do it; we have the padlock law," he said. Under the padlock law, the governor can direct the attorney general or county prosecutor to close gambling places.

O'Neill has invited sheriffs from all 88 counties to meet here next Tuesday to discuss law enforcement problems.

He said he would make it clear at the meeting that "there will be immediate action by the governor" unless the sheriffs act to prevent big time gambling.

Ohio's Underground Water Level Stable

Robert Joffrey Dancers Will Appear Here

The Robert Joffrey Theater Dancers will appear at the Salem High School Auditorium Sunday at 3 p.m. under the auspices of the Community Concerts Auditorium. The dancers will replace the scheduled performance of Koster & Stahl, internationally famous dance team, whose tour has been canceled due to illness.

Three leading young American dancers head the company of seven: Glen Tetley, Beatrice Thompkins and Gerald Arpino.

Television fans will readily spot Tetley. Born in Cleveland, he came to New York for a dancing career after completing service in the Navy. He was trained in ballet by Helene Platova and in modern dance by Hanya Holm.

In Broadway musicals he has been seen in "On The Town," "Kiss Me Kate," "Out of This World," and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

In television, he has danced in all the performances of "Amahl and the Night Visitors," and in many other productions of the NBC Television Opera Theater, as well as such major shows as Omnibus, Adventure, Camera Three, the Kate Smith Show and the Martha Raye show.

Beatrice Thompkins has toured the United States and Europe as soloist with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and with the New York City Ballet. She was also prima ballerina of the San Francisco Opera. She was dance lead in the United States premiere at Brandeis University of Milhaud's "Salade," and has recently appeared on television.

Gerald Arpino has been associated with Robert Joffrey in all the latter's New York City concerts. He has toured Central and South America with the Nana Gollner Paul Petroff Ballet.

Broadway has seen him in "Annie Get Your Gun," and "Bless You All" and as a featured member of May O'Donnell's company in the "American Dance" season at the Alvin Theatre. Arpino had the principal role in the recent Phoenix Theatre premiere of Joffrey's "Workout" in New York City.

John Wilson, a supporting performer, will demonstrate his gifts as a dancer, as a baritone and as a pianist.

Wilson, 25, has found time to do drama direction, choreography, to pursue a year of music study in Geneva, to appear with the Roger Wagner Chorus, to appear as vocal soloist in recital and with orchestra, and to compose a list of original works in every conceivable form.

Choreography and staging of the program have been done by Seattle-born Robert Joffrey. His ballet production for Ballet Theatre, for the Ballet Rambert of London, his choreography for musical comedies and for the NBC Television Opera Theater have marked him as one of the leading newcomers to the dance.

The Robert Joffrey Theater Dancers

His romantic ballet, "Pas de Deuxes," the hit of this season's Ballet Theatre Workshop at the Phoenix Theatre in New York City, is today in the repertoire of both Ballet Rambert and America's Ballet Theater. It will be the highlight of the program here Sunday afternoon.

'Down On The Farm' News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For Farmers

Livestock Slaughter Figures

The number of calves, sheep and hogs slaughtered in Ohio during November increased slightly from the preceding month while cattle slaughter showed a moderate decrease according to the Ohio Crop Reporting Service. Compared to the same month a year earlier, the number of cattle and hogs slaughtered is larger while the number of calves and sheep slaughtered is slightly smaller.

A total of 111,000 head of cattle was slaughtered in Ohio during November, 7 per cent below the number slaughtered a month earlier, but 8 per cent above the number slaughtered during November 1955.

The number of calves slaughtered during November at 25,000 head is 2,000 head above the October total but 1,000 head below the November 1955 total.

A total of 421,000 hogs was slaughtered in Ohio during November. This is 3,000 head more than during October and 15,000 head more than during November 1955. The January - November total slaughter at 4,226,000 head is 10 per cent above the January-November kill of 1955.

Sheep and lambs slaughtered during November totaled 19,000 head compared with 17,000 during the preceding month and 20,000 during November 1955.

Good Calf Housing Ideas

Adequate calf-housing is a management must if you are trying to raise future replacements for your herd. There are 10 important rules to remember in developing efficient, practical housing.

Always use individual pens the first two months, or while calves receive milk or milk replacer, advises an article in Successful Farming magazine. Allow a minimum of 24 square feet of floor space per calf, and reduce drafts with the use of solid partitions.

A uniform temperature within the 50-75 degree range is best for young calves. When moved to group pens, 10 calves per pen should be the maximum, with age differences of not over two months. Allow 30 or more square feet per calf in group pens.

Pens should be clean, dry, well-ventilated but draft free, and well-lighted, the magazine reminds. Provide fresh water with well-filled pails or drinking cups.

Good sizes for feed boxes are 8" x 10" x 6" for individual pens; 10" x 6" deep and two feet of space per calf in group pens.

There is less crowding in group pens with two troughs.

The last calf-housing tip is to locate the top of feed boxes and waterers 20" from the floor.

Fertilizer Storage

Farmers can benefit four ways from buying their fertilizer early this winter and storing it on the farm this spring, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee:

1. The plant food is well cured and you can get immediate delivery. You have your pick of the exact grade and amount of fertilizer you want.
2. The fertilizer is on hand and ready to use at a moment's notice when planting time arrives.
3. You save time and avoid costly delays in the spring when everybody is scrambling for fertilizer at the same time.
4. You can avoid the risk of scarcities in the spring rush period when some grades of plant food are sometimes hard to get.

The committee points out that fertilizer can be safely stored in the barn or some other dry building, so it will be in good condition when needed for crop operations. It is advisable to put the bags on 2 x 4's or cribbing above the floor so the fertilizer won't soak up moisture.

Homeworth

Miss Mabel Grim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Grim of Homeworth, a graduate of Salem City Hospital, School of Nursing, is in the obstetrical department at Alliance City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen T. Hahn of Alliance on Sunday welcomed approximately 50 callers who congratulated them on their 65th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Hahn received a number of remembrances. In the evening seven of their nine living children and their families gathered for an informal dinner. Mr. Hahn is a brother of D. F. Hahn of Homeworth.

Mrs. George Massie is improving at the Alliance City Hospital where she underwent surgery.

Mrs. Albert Yennie is in the Salem Central Clinic.

U.S. schools had an estimated 20,000 orchestras and 40,000 bands in 1956.

tion. The pilot then must right the craft.

The Washington spokesman said the plane apparently had been "placed in a position beyond its capability."

The plane was the fourth B-52 lost by the air force on training flights since February 1956.

At Austin, Tex., six crewmen died Thursday night when a B-29 aerial tanker crashed and burned while landing at nearby Bergstrom Air Force Base. Three others were injured, none seriously.

Crashed Near Ground

The plane crashed while nearing the ground after a refueling mission, hurling four crewmen out of the flaming wreckage. Five men were killed instantly and a sixth died later in the base hospital.

The Air Force identified the victims as:

Lt. Ronald Rosetti, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Rudolph, Paterson, N.J.

Lt. Robert E. Smith, 32, son of Mrs. Jeanne Gray, San Antonio, Tex.

Middle East

can submit a separate bill when his administration has worked out all the details.

Eisenhower wants authority to use up to 200 millions of already appropriated foreign aid funds on economic projects in the Middle East. He also wants to spend up to 200 millions a year for the next two years to strengthen the economies of free nations in the area.

Acheson criticized the provisions of the Eisenhower resolution as "vague, uncertain and inadequate." He said they "break little new ground and leave untouched great areas in need of policy"—mentioning in this latter connection the nagging Arab-Israeli dispute and the Suez Canal controversy.

Their views, the aides said, were expressed in letters, telegrams and telephone calls that are still coming in. Only a few, they added, have criticized Hays.

With Secretary of State Dulles on the stand, Hays bolted a closed-door session of the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tuesday. He claimed Dulles was trying to avoid being questioned publicly on Middle East policy. Dulles said it was a matter of "security."

For taking this position, Hays was congratulated by a newspaperman in Utica, N. Y. The man wrote: "Too many public officials, from municipal to federal government, use questionable tactics to justify doing the public's business behind closed doors."

A man in Jersey City, N. J., simply mailed Hays a silver dollar with a note appended, which read: "A medal for your courage."

A woman in Cumberland Gap, Tenn., told Hays: "Keep knocking. Make them open the green door."

Hays did, however, get some communications from critics. Two of these—one in New York City and another in Indianapolis—said the "mess" Hays claims exists in the Middle East can be blamed on the Democrats. They said Hays' party gave too much to the Russians after World War II.

Macmillan's Conservative party colleagues and leaders of the splinter Liberal party pledged support for the new government.

The Liberal party, a minute group between the Conservative and Labor factions, could possibly exercise wide influence in the event of a close struggle between the two major parties.

The Labor party issued a demand for new national elections, declaring the "whole country should pronounce its verdict" on the changes in the political lineup. But Macmillan, asked by reporters if he planned to go to the voters, replied, "No. If there was an election, we would win it."

The Conservatives' term normally would not expire until April 1960.

Called A "Cancer"

The Portsmouth strike situation was called "a cancer growing in southern Ohio" by J. Curtis Fletcher, national CWA director of the non-Bell system employees.

"All signs point to a return to the dark ages of labor-management relations if the company succeeds in destroying the union," Fletcher said.

to Eisenhower's forthcoming military and foreign aid budgets.

Eisenhower told the lawmakers Thursday that Americans must not "delude ourselves that safety necessarily increases as expenditures for military research or forces in being go up."

Russell said he wants to see details of the military and foreign aid budgets due next week before he decides what course to pursue. But he added:

"I agree with all the President said about fighting inflation but it is no more inflationary to spend money on building up our own military strength than it is to spend it on building up the military forces of other nations, some of which are of doubtful friendliness to us."

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said Eisenhower apparently has invited a "renewal of the conflict" with senators who have demanded a faster buildup of U. S. armed might.

Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) of the House Immigration subcommittee announced opposition to Eisenhower's proposal that Congress promptly "regularize" the status of Hungarian refugees admitted to this country. He said he favors a delay until it is determined whether there are any Communists among them.

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee said Eisenhower had passed "the burden to the Democratic Congress to develop programs" particularly with respect to small business, the family-sized farmer and power policies.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) said he was "disappointed at the President's continued adherence to the discredited 'partnership' power program."

3 Face Sentences For Bank Burglary

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — George (Bugs) Moran, 68, Prohibition era underworld figure in Chicago, faced sentencing with two companions today for a bank burglary 11 years ago.

They were found guilty Thursday, but federal judge Lester Cecil delayed sentencing pending a motion for a new trial from the defense.

A federal court jury of seven men and five women decided Moran, Virgil (Doc) Summers, 43, of Chicago, and Al Fouts, 66, of Dayton are guilty of stealing $4,500 from the Citizens Bank of Ansonia (Darke County) Nov. 8, 1945.

They face maximum sentences of $10,000 in fines and up to 30 years in prison each on counts of breaking and entering with intent to steal and theft of federally insured bank deposits.

The trial was delayed because the three defendants were serving prison terms. Summers and Moran were paroled from the Ohio Penitentiary last November after they had served 10 years on a kidnap-robbery conviction. Fouts was paroled in September.

Sheriff Will Attend Governor's Conference

Columbiana County Sheriff Russell VanFossan will attend a meeting with the sheriffs of the other 87 Ohio counties at Columbus Tuesday at the request of Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill to discuss rumors of big time gambling reopening in the state.

O'Neill said, "Opening day will be closing day for the gambling casinos. If they make any attempt to reopen, they will be padlocked immediately."

Salem Quakers To Face Tall Warren Panthers Tonight

Locals Seeking 6th Straight

Warren Has Lost 7 Of 9 Games

Salem's unbeaten Quakers will try to make it six straight wins when they hit the road tonight to battle the Warren Harding Panthers at their new gymnasium.

Warren, always a tough foe for the Quakers over the years, haven't a very impressive record so far this season as they have lost seven of nine tilts. But with a slight advantage in height they may prove quite troublesome.

Starting for the Panthers at center will be Tom Newhouse, 6 foot, 4 inch, 160-pound senior. At the forwards, Jack Gibson, 6-foot, 6-inch, 200-pound senior, and Joe Hill, 6-foot, 1-inch, 160-pound junior, get the nod.

Harrison Johnson, 5-foot, 10-inch, 155-pound senior, and Larry Preston, 5-foot, 10-inch, 150-pound senior, or Nevalton Butler, 5-foot, 11-inch, 155-pound junior get the call at the guard posts. Another player to see plenty of action is Bill Zaga, 6-foot, 1-inch, 170-pound senior, at a forward.

Bill Pauline is Salem's starting center for this encounter, and Mark Fenton, and Ted Jackson are going at forwards. John Stephenson and Dick Beall, last weeks top scorers, will begin at the guard positions.

John Sturgeon, Bill Schuster, Jim Meissner, and Lou Slaby, who helped considerably in his first varsity game by contributing six points, just when they were needed, should see plenty of action.

The Panthers record includes victories over Struthers 55-46, and Girard 60-34, and losses to Youngstown Chaney 51-42, East Liverpool 72-53, Toledo Waite 79-53, Sharon 84-32, Massillon 70-54, Canton Lehman 55-48, and Canton McKinley 90-51.

Warren has been averaging 50.2 points a game, and have allowed their opponents a 64.2 point average a game. Gibson and Newhouse are the team's top scorers with 108 and 99 points respectively for the nine games played.

Salem's starting five tonight have made a total of 228 points out of the team total of 292 points, which gives them a 45.6 point average a game. The team average is 58.4 a game. The Quaker opponents have tallied 262 points for a 52.4 average a game.

Salem's season record of five straight victories includes Struthers 49-37, Columbiana 42-38, East Palestine 72-64, Akron Garfield 57-52, and New Philadelphia 72-71. Last year's score was Warren 106, Salem 103.

Game time is listed for 7:30 p.m.

Logan Doesn't See Redlegs Winning Easily

By CHUCK CAPALDO

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves doesn't agree with teammate Billy Bruton's statement that the 1957 National League baseball race could be a "runaway if Cincinnati gets a little pitching help."

"I don't see it that way at all," said shortstop Logan today. "Far from a runaway for any team, I think it'll be another three or four team race right down to the wire just like last season."

Bruton was quoted in Detroit Wednesday as saying the Redlegs possessed tremendous power, a beautiful defense and "all they need is a little more pitching." He also said he didn't think Brooklyn would be as strong.

"Billy is entitled to his opinion," Logan continued, "but I think it'll be another race decided by a toss of the coin. Birdie Tebbets is a real good manager and he did a good job at Cincinnati, but he still has to show me he can win a pennant, let alone in a breeze."

He said he figured the Braves, Brooklyn, Cincinnati, St. Louis and perhaps Pittsburgh would be in the thick of the race.

Logan also doesn't see eye-to-eye with Bruton's opinion that a two-day layoff in the last week of the season cost the Braves their momentum.

200 Fans Attend Basketball Clinic At Salem High Gym

About 200 fans faced the bitter cold to attend the Salem Booster Club's seventh annual basketball clinic, held at the High School gymnasium last night.

Harold Carter Favored Over Baker Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Carter,

an ambitious young heavyweight on the way up, is a 9-5 choice to whip bulky Bob Baker, onetime leading challenger, in a 10-round bout tonight that could move the winner close to a title fight with champion Floyd Patterson.

Hurricane Tommy Jackson, the No. 1 contender, is believed to be set for the June crack at Patterson unless he runs into trouble because of his accident with an automobile. If the unorthodox Hurricane can't make it, Carter or Baker stand as good a chance as any.

With victories over Bob Satterfield and Johnny Summerlin, Carter, a 22-year-old Sunday school teacher from Linden, N.J., advanced to a No. 4 contender's rank with the NBA. Baker, now 30, still is the second contender in the NBA ratings.

Carter, an aggressive plugger, plans to follow the same tactics employed by Jackson, who twice beat Baker. He said he will crowd his 6-2, 215-pound rival and make him fight a full three minutes every round.

Baker, the enigma of the heavyweights, realizes he has to snap out of his lethargy and beat Carter if he wants to stay in the picture. After his second defeat by Jackson, Sept. 26, he lost his spot as top contender.

NBC will telecast at 10 p.m. EST.

Baker's record is 45-7-1, including 19 knockouts. Carter has a 21-2-2 record, including 10 knockouts. Scoring will be by rounds with a supplementary point system used to help break draws. The winner of each round gets from one to four points, the loser none.

Los Angeles — Larry Bataan, 124 1/2, Philippines, and Billy (Sweetpea) Peacock, 123, Los Angeles, drew, 10.

Dayton Trips St. Francis

Steubenville Wins 36th In Row At Home

By The Associated Press

A cool, coordinated Dayton basketball team overcame previously displayed Madison Square Garden jitters Thursday night to defeat St. Francis of Brooklyn, 84-60.

Jim Palmer, Dayton's 6-foot 8-inch forward tied the Terrier's 6-7 Al Innis for scoring honors with 22 points.

Closer to home, Concordia of Indiana tossed one in with 30 seconds left to edge Giffin of Ohio, 74-72. The winning shot, thrown in by Bill Campbell, broke the last of seven ties.

Steubenville chalked up its 36th straight home court victory with a 71-62 win over Central State of Wilberforce. Jack Cibulka led Steubenville with 19 points and Phillips Payne was high man for Central State with 23.

In Cedarville, Ohio Northern's Polar Bears sailed to an easy 83-64 victory over the Cedarville Yellow Jackets. Ohio Northern now has a 3-0 record in the Mid-Ohio League. It was Cedarville's fifth straight loss.

Wooster College, paced by Tom Justice's 1 points, romped to an 89-59 victory over Kenyon. It was the second victory for Wooster in eight games and the third defeat in five for Kenyon.

Middlecoff Favored In Pro-Amateur

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Defending champion Cary Middlecoff was favored to win the Bing Crosby Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament for the third straight time as a field of 276 led off today.

Despite a nagging cold, he shot a 3-under-par practice round of 69 over the tricky Cypress Point course.

"The course never played easier," he commented. Cypress Point, Monterey Peninsula and Pebble Beach — the three courses over which Crosby's annual charity tournament is played — were in the best condition yet.

The forecast was for intermittent rain.

Middlecoff's record 202 total for 54 holes last year weighed heavily in establishing him again as favorite.

Mike Souhak won the driving contest Thursday, belting one ball 265 yards. Don January, Lampasas, Tex., was second with a 279-yard shot, followed by Lionel Hebert, Lafayette, La., 275, and Charles Von Tegen, San Rafael, Calif., 274.

Three Golf Club Directors Chosen

A. A. Parker, George Perrault Jr., and Ken Pinkerton were elected to the board of directors of the Salem Golf Club Wednesday night at a meeting held at the Golf Club.

The three will serve three-year terms. Two other members who were re-elected to the board are Robert Campbell and Ray Reasbeck.

General discussion at the meeting centered around the club's new building program.

The 15-man board of directors will meet next Tuesday at which time officers for 1957 will be chosen.

Other present members of the club's board include: Alroy Bloomberg, W. Lynn Ferguson, James Fitzpatrick, Robert Hall, John Hochadel, David Keller, Ralph Martin, Robert McCulloch Jr., Robert Oswald and Kenneth Wirtz.

Tool forged ahead 15-14 at the end of the period but Carl scored 21 points in the next frame to take an intermission edge of 35-32. The victors outscored their opponents by three points in the last half to lead Tool by a six point margin.

The win was Carl's eighth straight without a loss.

In one other Class A contest last night, Midway Motors ran wild in the final quarter, scoring 26 points to defeat Youngstown Kitchens 65-61. Motors had trailed with eight minutes remaining by a 46-39 count but got rolling in the last frame to defeat their adversaries.

The winners trailed at the half by 30-19. However, in the third quarter they started chopping the deficit and in the fourth quarter really went to work to pull the game out of the fire.

Hiten and R. Green were high point men for Midway with 18 each, while the losers' offensive attack was led by B. Lutch's 15 tallies.

Forefests played the Salem Volleyball league Thursday evening.

Deming defeated Bloomberg's 3-0 and the Eagles won over the Methodist church by the same score in a pair of unplayed games.

Schools Feud Over Coach

Washington Seeking Nebraska's Elliott

By SKIPPER PATRICK
ST. LOUIS (AP) — A hassle between the University of Washington and the University of Nebraska over the football coaching services of young Pete Elliott is the most lively topic at the wrap-up session of the NCAA's 51st convention today.

Elliott, 32, an assistant to Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma before taking the Nebraska job a year ago, is the middle man in the controversy.

He has a polite "no comment" reply to all questions about it.

He doesn't deny, however, that he's been contacted by Washington officials and has talked "coaching" with a representative of the Pacific Coast Conference school.

Nebraska's athletic director, Bill Orwig, charged Thursday Washington had followed an unethical procedure in soliciting Elliott as successor to Darrell Royal, who recently took over the head coach's job at the University of Texas.

Orwig said he felt "a school seeking the services of an employee of another school should show the courtesy of first contacting the head man of the department involved."

George Briggs, Washington's athletic director, said: "The football coaching job at my school is wide open. I'm still interviewing people."

Briggs acknowledged he contacted Elliott about the coaching job last month. He said he first called Orwig but Orwig wasn't reachable at the time.

The pot still was boiling with rumors over a number of other football coaching vacancies, among them the jobs at California, Indiana, Southern California, and Houston.

As for the convention itself, the important matters of recruiting procedures and financial aid to student athletes were before the general assembly of the NCAA. It's considered unlikely, however, there will be any fireworks on these matters on the floor of the convention.

Thursday, Tom Hamilton, athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh and chairman of the Youth Fitness Committee, advised the nation's athletic leaders they should increase their efforts and expenditures to avoid putting American youth in a bad state of affairs.

The committee, in its report, pointed out fewer than 50 per cent of high school boys and girls receive physical education and said if the colleges don't take the lead the national program instituted by President Eisenhower may die.

Lakers Dump Nats Further Into Cellar

By The Associated Press
The Syracuse Nationals are down, way down in the National Basketball Assn. this season, but their long-time star, Dolph Schayes, is still up there with the best.

The parallel was clear Thursday night as the Nats, eastern division cellar-dwellers, took it on the chin at home, 118-110 from the Minneapolis Lakers. But Schayes, former New York University great, broke a 5-year-old free throw record enroute to a 40-point performance.

Schayes, the only Nat selected for the eastern All-Stars this season, cashed a perfect 18 tries from the foul line. The old mark of 17 without a miss in one game was set by Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors, Feb. 8, 1952, against Syracuse.

The loss left the Nats four games behind the New York Knickerbockers, 89-84 overtime winners against the St. Louis Hawks in the first game of a doubleheader at Philadelphia.

In the nightcap, the Warriors knocked off the Rochester Royals 112-93. Out in Fort Wayne, the Boston Celtics, top eastern club, maintained a four-game spread over Philadelphia by lacing the Pistons 98-81.

Anti-Trust Case Against Boxing Guild Is Beaten

CLEVELAND (AP) — The government's anti-trust case against the International Boxing Guild, its affiliate and three of their officers was dealt a knockout blow Thursday by Federal Judge James C. Connell, who acquitted the defendants.

Officers freed of the anti-trust violation charges were Charles

Johnston of New York, president of the IBG; William Daly, New York, IBG general treasurer, and Albert W. Del Monte of Cleveland, president of the Boxing Guild of Ohio.

A move for acquittal was made by defense counsel Edward Knachel after the government had rested its case. He contended that the testimony of 10 witnesses for the government had failed to prove the defendants had conspired to violate anti-trust laws by price-fixing and boycotting in promotion of studio boxing bouts over television station WEWS in Cleveland.

The guild's defense was that it acted as a "labor union" to assure boxers they would not be underpaid. Evidence showed that fighters received as little as $10 a round for four-round bouts in the noaudience studio shows in Cleveland.

Jones, Smallwood To Box In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two middleweights—Ralph (Tiger) Jones and Hardy Smallwood—will meet in a 10-round fight at Public Music Hall next Friday night as a substitute for the welterweight championship bout between Carmen Basilio and Johnny Saxton.

The Cleveland Boxing Commission Thursday approved postponement of the title bout after Basilio announced that he would not be able to defend his crown until late February because of an injured right hand.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins said he hoped to reschedule the Basilio-Saxton bout for Feb. 22.

Jones, of Yonkers, N. Y., defeated Sugar Ray Robinson with ease in Robinson's first bout of a comeback trail that led to his regaining the middleweight championship. Gene Fullmer, who recently took the crown from Robinson, defeated Jones here last April.

Smallwood, whose home is in Brooklyn, scored his most impressive victory over Caspar Ortega, who is now one of the leading challengers for the middleweight championship.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

According to figures released by Harold Green, supervisor of fire-arms and water safety for the Ohio Division of Wildlife, there were 96 hunting casualties during 1956. During the upland game season, 63 casualties were reported and 24 occurred during the squirrel season. There was only one casualty during the deer season and one during the waterfowl season. Five casualties were listed as miscellaneous and two took place while hunting woodchucks. Youthful hunters were responsible for many of the hunting casualties, either as the man behind the gun or on the receiving end of the discharge. Of persons injured, 47 per cent were 19 years of age or under. Forty-nine per cent of the casualties involved hunters having less than five years of actual hunting experience in the field.

One-fourth of all casualties were self-inflicted and included: shooter stumbling and falling with a loaded weapon, crossing fence or other obstacle with loaded weapon, trigger catching on brush or other object and taking loaded gun from vehicle. The Ohio Division of Wildlife has continued to cooperate with the National Rifle Association and the National Education Association and others in carrying on an intensive Hunter Safety Program like the one sponsored in Salem by the Salem Hunting Club.

MARTINS FERRY SEEKS COACH

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) — Martins Ferry High School is seeking a successor to Mel Adams as head football coach. Adams, whose team finished the 1956 season with two wins, six losses and one tie, said he resigned because he worried about the team too much.

Johnny Simpson of Orlando, Fla., trained and drove three harness champions in 1956. They were Topid, Noble Adios and Hickory Smoke.

Head Waiter Fined For Tax Evasion

NEW YORK (AP) — A former Waldorf-Astoria Hotel head waiter who failed to put thousands in tips on his tax return was fined $10,000 Wednesday. Arthur Hagedorn, 54, also was put on probation for 18 months. He could have been sentenced to up to five years in prison but was given leniency because he paid $11,781 in taxes, penalties and interest.

His predecessor as Waldorf headwaiter, Hans Paul, 65, was given a four-month jail sentence and a $7,500 fine last April on a similar charge.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

I'm just back from London town and can report that the British are working on something called television and have developed a new type music, moaning low stuff, sounding like an early Judy Holiday giving out with a New Orleans tune called "I Don't Want Any Banana in My Piz za Pie."

Also the marquee in the movie house across from Windsor Castle and the playing fields of Eton said "Hollywood or Bust," and the good folks were queuing up for it.

You can kid the British a lot but not on matters that count. They borrow a lot of our foibles and like them but none of our nonsense or breakdown of moral and ethical standards. Like racketeering, for example.

I did a lot of talking in London and even wandered over to the waterfront. But aside from some knife-wielding "teddy" boys and some loose ladies in night-time

Soho and Piccadilly, I found no organized racket.

The British labor movement is clean. Their waterfront has no pirates.

OVER TV and over "sound broadcasting" and in press conferences I tried to explain why only America has an underworld. They listened. They regretted.

Then they asked one question I couldn't answer. Why don't our authorities do something? I just don't know. Maybe the British will get their answer soon, when the American people get it — during this session of Congress. It looks like we're going to have Kefauver-type investigation of the underworld inside labor.

That apparently is what will come out of the mob's pushing a lot of people around and maiming others.

This probe may get up steam within a few weeks if two powerful Senate committees join forces, combine their investigating staffs and throw their appropriations into a common pool.

I refer to the sub-committee of the Senate Committee on Government Operations, headed by Sen.

Delays On Trials

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Trial for 16 persons charged with criminal contempt of federal court for interfering with Clinton High School integration has been postponed indefinitely. It had been scheduled for Jan. 28.

It was understood that Crawford asked for the extension.

Ohio Inaugural Ball
Takes Two Ballrooms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Galbreath, chairman of the Ohio inaugural committee, said Thursday requests for tickets to the Inaugural Ball next Monday are coming in such numbers that two ballrooms will be needed. The ball will be held in the Neil House and the Deshler-Hilton Hotel in Columbus, he said.

BELLE OF THE BALL — Governor Collins' six-year-old daughter, Darby, was the belle of the Inaugural Ball at Tallahassee, Fla. She danced with her "date," Richard Evans, 13, of Tampa. He is Darby's cousin and the Governor's nephew.

Party Line Talkers
Delay Fire Call

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Fire which destroyed a four-unit apartment building Thursday night had plenty of help from icy roads, lack of water and couple of party line telephone users.

The blaze, in the frame building at Ohio 305 and North Park Extension, was discovered by two sisters—Barbara, 11, and Nancy, 13—who told their mother, Mrs. Bessie Hillier. Mrs. Hillier tried in vain to use her phone to call firemen. She said two people on the line refused to interrupt their call.

Firemen from Champion and Bazetta Township finally were reached but they quickly used up their own supply of water, and a well they tapped went dry. The firemen drove to nearby Mosquito Reservoir to fill up their tanks but icy roads slowed their trip and the building was a mass of flames when they returned, witnesses said.

The loss was estimated at $20,000.

Police Seeking
3 In Kidnaping
Of Actress

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police are hoping to talk to a sandwich maker, a service station attendant and a landlord who might fit into Marie McDonald's story of being kidnaped from her home.

Detectives would like to find: The person who made the turkey sandwiches Miss McDonald says her kidnapers fed her at one point.

The man who put gas in the old, green car the blonde movie actress says was used to transport her from a small house in Los Angeles to a desert highway near Indio, where she was found last Friday night.

And, possibly, the landlord of the house where she says two swarthy kidnapers held her while planning to ransom her for $80,000.

Chief of Detectives Thad Brown said that under California's Little Lindbergh Law, kidnapers face the death penalty in cases where their victim is injured. He said that the law applies to Miss McDonald's case because she was beaten during her disappearance.
